2. Which of the following statements should the LWVOK include in its position on common school finance? (Please note that you may choose more than one item; please amplify your answer in the comments section.)

The legislature has the responsibility for ensuring that a long-term plan exists to provide adequate funding for the operation of schools into the future.

The League supports a restoration of the gross production tax to 7% on all wells with a substantial amount of money devoted to education.

A "shared-pool" of funds from ad valorem rich districts should be established to equalize funding for districts with less ad valorem revenue.

Charter schools should be allowed to have access to the same local funding sources as all public schools in their district.

Eligibility requirements for vouchers should be expanded so more students can use them.

3. Which of the following statements should the LWVOK include in its position on vouchers? (Please note that you may choose more than one item; please amplify your answer in the comment section.)

The LWVUS opposes vouchers and the LWVOK should do the same.

Vouchers should only be used when they can be shown to improve the education of students.

Schools that accept voucher students should be held to the same standards of academic and financial accountability as the public schools.

5. Which of the following statements should the LWVOK include in its position on charter schools? (Please note that you may choose more than one item; please amplify your answer in the comments section.)

More research comparing academic outcomes of charter schools to traditional schools is needed.

With limited funding and resources in rural traditional schools, the State Department of Education should be especially cautious when authorizing charters in rural areas.

Charter school sponsors, entities, and contracted vendors should be financially accountable to the public

7. Which of the following statements should the LWVOK include in its position on virtual schools?(Please note that you may choose more than one item; please amplify your answer in the comments section.)

Students should be screened before admission to a virtual program to ensure that their motives and educational plans are appropriate for successful outcomes.

Virtual schools make sense for a generation that is accustomed to spending hours each day in front of a screen.

Virtual schools should have limits on their use of public spaces, like libraries, in order to fulfill their mission.

8. Which of the following statements should the LWVOK include in its position on virtual and blended coursework? (Please note that you may choose more than one item: please amplify your answer in the comments section.)

Virtual courses should be used sparingly to compensate for deficiencies in the curricular offerings of traditional schools

More research is needed to determine whether specific models of blended courses (e.g. flipped courses) are an improvement over traditional courses.

Virtual courses can allow students in smaller districts access to advanced and AP courses that their schools can't offer.

9. Which of the following statements should the LWVOK include in its position on post-secondary education? (Please note that you may choose more than one item; please amplify your answer in the comment section.)

There should be more interaction between secondary and post-secondary instructors, particularly in areas such as math, to prevent students from having to take remedial courses in college.

More students should be made aware of their options to take AP courses and college courses while still in high school so they enter college with some completed coursework.

The legislature must fund post-secondary education in order to train students for the workforce Oklahoma needs.

The number of colleges should be reduced.

Vocational-technical schools should be encouraged to enter into agreements with private business in order to prepare students for specific jobs.
